One of those places that come up very rarely - Albany Bell Castle has been a variety of businesses over the years including a chocolate factory, home of the Daily Mail newspaper and a base for the Department of Transport. Now a trendy apartment complex in a prestigious position with great security including intercom, plenty of green open spaces, large internal courtyard, a variety of mature trees, grassed areas and chess board and only a short stroll to Banks Reserve along the river front.

This second floor apartment features two bedrooms and has just recently been renovated with new flooring, fresh paintwork and sparkling bench
